

Helping school districts create healthier students, greener campuses, and more resilient communities

The Green & Healthy Schools Network is a collaborative initiative of Green Umbrella that helps school districts advance sustainability, student wellness, outdoor learning, and workforce development.

As a Green Umbrella member, your district joins a regional network of educators, local governments, nonprofits, and businesses working together to improve school communities while preparing students for the future.

Whether your district is just getting started or developing a comprehensive sustainability strategy, Green Umbrella provides practical tools, expert guidance, and collaborative partnerships to help you succeed.
